DAILY STAFF WILL MEET IN THE OFFICES

A General Meeting to be Held at Half Past Seven To-night

CO-EDS TO COME

President and Editor-in-Chief Will Speak in Connection With Newspaper Methods

In order that more intimate acquaintances may be established, that a further knowledge of newspaper methods may be obtained and that a greater spirit of co-operation may come into existence, a general meeting of the staff of the "McGill Daily" is being held this evening in the offices, in the basement of the Union, at half-past seven.

The primary object of this meeting is to initiate the new members of the staff in the mysteries and formalities of newspaper work and by this means, to overcome and eliminate the minor difficulties that are bound to face those, who are not familiar with the routine of the office. Jack O'Brien, the president of the Daily, will give a short talk in connection with the facts of newspaper writing and will point out that there are the right and wrong ways to construct an article. There is a certain mechanical side to this work and only those who have been actively connected with journalism, can understand the whys and wherefores of the reasons of newspaper methods.

Howard O'Hagan, the editor in chief, will also speak briefly along newspaper lines.

The members of the staff from the R.C. and from the School of Physical Education will also be present and the co-eds will learn a few of the tricks of the newspaper game. It is hoped also that further co-operation and increased efficiency will be established between the two sections of the staff, as a result of this meeting.

This will also furnish a chance for the new-comers to meet the older members of the staff and during the course of the evening, a confirmation of the appointments for the year will be given.

Every member of the "Daily" staff, as well as every candidate for a position thereon, is urged to put forth a special effort to be present at this, the first meeting of the year. It is particularly intended to acquaint the new men with the ways of the "Daily" that the meeting is being held, and it is hoped that this attempt will find a response in a representative gathering tonight at seven-thirty.

Arrangements have been made to have refreshments served at the conclusion of the gathering.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Many Expected To-night at Strathcona Hall—Mr. Key
Will Conduct Singing

The first meeting and practice of the Glee Club will be held this evening at 7 o'clock (sharp) in the Strathcona Hall. It is important that every man who is interested in glee and the part that music is to play in the life of the university, should be in attendance.

The executive has definite plans for a very enjoyable season and asks the co-operation of the students to make the Glee Club of McGill second to none.

Former members are asked to bring all their music and everyone is expected to have a copy of the McGill Song Book.

Mr. Harold Eustace Key will conduct the singing and this fact, alone, is enough to guarantee a most successful commencement to one of the best years that the Club has ever known.

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING OF GRAD. SOCIETY

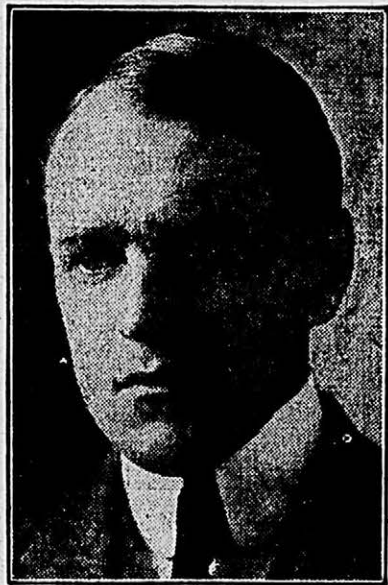

Dr. Little Presides at Initial Meeting

PROGRESS MADE

Senator White, Dr. Sawyer and Dr. Belladonna Were Visiting Delegates

The regular semi-annually meeting of the Graduates' Society was held at the Engineering Institute last night. In the absence of the president, Mr. P. F. Syse, the chair was occupied by Dr. Nicholson, who, in his opening remarks, briefly outlined the splendid progress that the organization made since the remodelling of the constitution, thus enabling the formation of branch societies, and thereby increasing the membership of the Society. Dr. Nicholson paid tribute to the Principal, who travelled extensively last summer, visiting several of the branch societies, and stirring up enthusiasm among the graduates for their Alma Mater. Along this line the chairman also mentioned, Dr. Thornton, dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, and Drs. Martin and Bazin.

Dr. H. M. Little, the president-elect, then took up his position as chairman, and in a short address, stated that he appreciated the privilege and honor extended to him. He was aware, Dr. Little said, that many distinguished men had occupied this position before him, and that he looked forward to a very successful year. The chairman then called upon the treasurer, who presented his financial report, which was accepted.

Senator White, delegate from the Ottawa alley branch society, reported on a most successful banquet held in the Parliament restaurant at Ottawa, at which the Principal, Sir Arthur Currie was present.

Dr. Sawyer, representing the New England Graduates' Society, stated that he felt that the new directory, containing the addresses of all known graduates, and which will soon be issued, would prove a boon to their branch society. He also stressed the importance of "The McGill of the University of McGill College"

INVITATION EXTENDED BY NEW ZEALAND

University of New Zealand
Invites McGill Delegate

COUCHED IN LATIN

Document of Most Othodox Latin Character

An impressive document in Latin, addressed to Sir Arthur Currie, principal and vice-chancellor, arrived at McGill yesterday, bearing the greetings of Canterbury College, University of New Zealand, Christchurch, New Zealand, and inviting McGill to send a delegate to participate in that university's celebration of its semi-centennial in May, 1923.

The document is printed in the most orthodox Latin style, beginning, like the letters of the Romans, with a salutation of "greetings", and closing with a "valete" or "farewell". The first sentence is of typical Latin length, with forty-five words divided by a solitary comma. Contrary to modern usage, the first letter of the first word of each sentence is not distinguished by being a capital, except that of the very first sentence, which is a handsome wood-cut initial.

The inscription to McGill reads: "Universitati Macgillianae Collegium Cantuariense Salutem Dicit Plvrimam." The letter closes as follows: "Valete. Dabamus Christi Aede die xii mensis Augusti AS MCMXXII." It is signed by "Henricus Dyke Acland, Praeses Consiliorum; Carolus Chilton, Rector; Leonardus A. Stringer, Tabularius."

The English equivalent of the Latin message is as follows: "To McGill University, Canterbury College, Sends Heartiest Greetings: "In view of the antiquity, greatness, and renown of universities flourishing in other parts of the world, doubt would perhaps have entered our minds whether by sending such a letter as this to you we were not presenting the appearance of youngsters seeking intercourse with their elders, had we not remembered, however, that there was nothing on which necessity did not impose some sort of a beginning, and that community of studies is, as it were, a bond of affection. We are preparing to celebrate the semi-centennial of our college on the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth of May of next year, and we venture to ask that you will send to us from the honorable list of your professors a delegate who will participate in the ceremonies. If the great distance intervening between us shall prevent any one of your number accepting this invitation, perhaps you can appoint one of your graduates living in this part of the world. We should be delighted to have him present at our

NEWFOUNDLANDERS MET LAST NIGHT

The Prospects for the Coming Year are Very Bright

Last night, a very enthusiastic meeting was held by the Newfoundland Club in the Strathcona Hall. The attendance was large, and prominent among the members were the faces of new men, for the first time attending McGill. The Hon. President, Dr. W. H. Hatcher, addressed the meeting, and gave an informal talk, which was highly appreciated by everybody present.

Plans for the coming year were then discussed, and it was decided that the next meeting will take the form of a smoker. The time, place and date of this smoker will be announced later in the Daily.

Judging from the enthusiasm shown at last night's meeting, the success of the Club for the coming year is assured.

FIGURES AND THE FUTURE

Statistics are, in many cases, dangerous but yet they may be taken at their worth and at times are clearly indicative as to the fundamentally external trend of public opinion. They are cold, unemotional, unbiased, and consequently must be used only when these facts are born in mind. However, even though they are lacking in many qualities, figures aid in the formation of judgment and in this capacity serve a definite purpose.

In yesterday's issue of "The Daily", incomplete registration figures were published and unless one is the most cynical of cynics, these statistics give rise to a considerable amount of optimism.

In the first place they point to a greater McGill and cast a bright gleam into the unknown future of our Alma Mater. Some may contest this conclusion, demanding upon what basis we have a right to form our judgment but we are of the opinion that our claim is perfectly sound, standing securely upon a logical basis.

Throughout the country, during the past year, there has been a good deal of depression and as a result there has been a certain falling off in the registration of many of our sister universities. Here, although the figures are not as yet complete, there is only a slight decrease in the number of students and it is quite reasonable to believe that last year's total will be practically equalled when the returns are completed. The examination standards have become higher, if anything, but students still show their support for Old McGill and many in the public schools are turning their eyes expectantly towards the portals of this university.

Another hopeful sign is the increased registration in the Faculty of Arts and this is an indication that is well worthy of notice. This increase is in part due to the fact that one year of Arts, or senior matriculation, is required for entrance into the Faculty of Medicine but it is more than probable that the greater numbers are due to an increased desire for a liberal education.

The graduates of years gone by have by their consistent loyalty and faithful efforts kept the good name of their Alma Mater before the eyes of the intellectual world. As an inevitable result the number of students, who have chosen McGill as their foster mother, has increased from year to year and the university has reached its present enviable position.

It is the duty of the future graduates to follow the fine example of their predecessors and in their hands alone rests the future of McGill. It is up to us to attain or even surpass the standards of the past. May we not shirk from the task that is set before us.

"NEWS"

The official organ of the Students Council, the McGill Daily, is supported, we are told, by revenue derived from advertisements inserted in it, and by subscription of the undergraduates. This is a statement which, in itself, is beyond censure; but it is, after all, only a partial account of the maintenance of the "Daily". Our university journal depends, primarily and finally, for its publication upon "News". News forms at once the means and the object of a college daily. The paper may be edited, it is true, by a voluntary staff of students, but this group is forced to rely upon the mass of undergraduates to supply the matter that is to comprise the "make-up" of each edition.

Insofar as possible reporters are detailed to "cover" the various happenings of the day, which are thought to be of sufficient interest to warrant the presence of a "Daily" representative. At times it is found impossible to give the consideration due to each separate activity in this respect, it being difficult to gain touch with the men expected to look after the assignments on that particular date, as well as to so arrange affairs that no one of the reporters will be restrained from attendance at lectures because of his responsibilities as a member of the "Daily" staff. However, except in isolated instances no trouble is experienced in obtaining a man to attend to those meetings, practices and games of which we receive notice. It is rather of those events, trivial, unannounced and usually unreported, that we intend to include mention here. The incidents, which because of their very triviality and unexpectedness are prone to pass unrecorded in these columns might be the nucleus, not infrequently, of a good "story". Their character renders them a too indefinite quantity to find a place on the assignment list and their publication is contingent upon word being brought, or sent, to the "Daily" office by one of the witnesses.

A few paragraphs of "human interest", a description of some chance occurrence, an indication of what attracted your attention during the day at college—these constitute "News". Not stereotyped, matter-of-fact explanations of the transaction of business at an executive gathering, but something that you can read through, think about, and possibly laugh over, is what the "Daily" is constantly seeking. Have you anything that you might write a few words concerning? If so, bring it to the "Daily" office and see it in print the next morning.

celebration. Assuredly you may regard this as certain; that if you will be able to delegate anyone to participate in our festivities we shall extend to him a very warm welcome. Farewell.

President of the Council.
CHARLES CHILTON,
Rector.
LEONARD A. STRINGER,
Registrar.

The inscription "Universitatis Macgilliana" is an entirely new Latin equivalent for McGill University. When McGill was only McGill College, it was referred to in Latin documents as "Collegii McGill". When the Montreal Medical Institution joined McGill College it took the title of "Faculty of Medicine and to this day the seals of the Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry of McGill University bear the inscription "Facultas Medicinae Universitatis Collegii McGill".

The old University seal was somewhat similar. When the coat of arms of McGill University was readjusted a few years ago to agree with heraldic rules, the inscription "Universitatis Collegii McGill Montregio" was continued on the new seal. The latest degree parchments, however, are headed "Universitas McGill ad montem regium in provincia canadensi." While principal, Sir William Peterson had interested himself in this point of the most correct form of the officers of the Undergraduate Society for McGill, but his adaptation of "Universitas McGilliana" found little use. Now comes "Universitas Macgilliana" from over the seas.

NOTICES

Complaints have been reaching the Students Council that the rushing and threats to rush are interfering seriously with not only classes, but all college activities. For this reason, so that every undergraduate can settle down to his studies earnestly, and without fear of interruption, the Council have decided to declare that after Monday evening there shall be no more rushing. In the past rushing has always ended with the University sports, but since there is no holiday on that day, and it is impossible to hold one big rush and get it over, and since it is not fair to freshmen that they should have to give up their evenings from study, to start a year in an unsettled state is bad enough, even for men of upper years, but is much worse for freshmen. Therefore all sophomores are to take notice that no more rushing is to take place after Monday—and on Monday there must not be any disturbance to the freshmen which will in any way prevent them from attending their classes. Freshmen on the other hand, are required to wear their freshmen hats until Nov. 6th, or until such time the Council sees fit to cancel them.

NOTICE

The presidents of all classes are requested to meet the President of the Student's Council at the Union, at one o'clock to-day. It is important that everyone thus included to be present.

TRACK

All first and second year men turning out for the track team who require attendances to satisfy the requirement of the Department of Physical Education will have their attendances taken at Molsons Hall when getting their locker keys. The first and second year men who do not use Molsons Hall as a dressing room must notify the manager, who will be at the Stadium each day, to that effect and their attendance will be taken at the track.

STUDENT WANTED

Wanted a student to assist in the Cafeteria from 12.00 to 2.00 each day. Apply at once to manager of Cafeteria.

GYMNASIUM SUITS

A limited number of sleeveless jerseys and white running trunks may be secured from the attendant in the Locker Room at Molson Hall at a very reasonable price.

INDOOR BASEBALL

All classes intending to enter teams in the inter-class series which will begin shortly, are requested to elect baseball representatives at once. Names of representatives should be handed in to O. L. McCullough at the Union. Freshman presidents are asked to take special note of this.

C.O.T.C.

Parades on Wednesdays and Thursdays between 5.10 and 6.10 will be held in the old Law Building at the corner of Milton and University Streets.

A. L. PATTERSON,
Adjutant.

S.C.A. GAVE JOLLY PARTY TO R.V.C. '26

Miss Helen Nichol Gave a Talk

K. PERRIN PLAYED

All Joined in the Singing of Familiar Songs

A very successful tea was held yesterday afternoon in the Common Room of the R. V. C. in honour of the freshmen. A large number of women students than usual, of the first year, both R.V.C. and Physical Eds., availed themselves of this opportunity of becoming acquainted with the upper students and the members of their own year.

The freshmen, after being suitably identified, in the usual manner by the attachment of a small tag bearing the name of each, were conducted about by the members of the upper years to Refreshments were then served which contributed the usual large amount of success to the program.

Miss Helen Nichol spoke a few words to the students. Miss Nichol is leaving for Toronto to become Secretary of the Student Christian Organization of that city, and her remarks were confined to the purpose and work of those who attended conference.

Miss Nichol summed up her remarks briefly with the statement that the S.C.A. is the best possible medium through which an understanding and sympathy can be brought about between the individual and his fellow-men. She was of the opinion that anyone who had studied the religious, political, and economic conditions of the day, would understand how great was the need of such a league.

Miss Kathleen Perrin delighted everyone with a beautiful violin solo.

After tea the girls gathered in a 1.00 Class Presidents Meeting. circle singing many familiar songs. Those who attended Conference taught the others several of the rousing songs learned there.

After singing "Hail Alma Mater" the McGill yell was given, followed by the startling "Revolution" cry of the conference.

Although the Common Room was very crowded the tea was a decided success, promoting a very sincere feeling of fellowship between all women students of the University.

FIRST REAL MEETING OF MANDOLIN CLUB

Last night the McGill Mandolin Club met for the first real practice of the year at Peate's Studio. To repeat Mr. Peate's words, "Boys, you have the makings of a splendid club this year," about explains the Club's prospects for the coming season. The old music was gone over with the snap and vim that is characteristic of the club, and the new music was played in such a manner as to bring a good, encouraging smile on the face of the director.

The music is to be arranged in orchestral parts for each member, duplicate parts being made at a very low cost to accommodate players of any musical instrument.

There were about fifteen members present and if the few players who did not turn up will show up at the next practice on Tuesday night at Peate's Studio, they will receive their respective parts and help to get the Club away for a good start.

Several important engagements are in sight, so that the need for immediate and complete organization is urgent.

The Secretary, not having returned this year, J. G. Bishop, Science '23, was elected unanimously to fill the vacancy.

forms must be handed in at this meeting.

ARTS UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETY FOR 1922-23.

The Secretary of the Arts Undergraduate Society has to be chosen from the 1926 class of the Arts Faculty. Nominations for this office signed by ten undergraduates must be in the hands of the present secretary, H. McPhail, not later than 5.00 p.m. Thursday, October 12th. If the nominations make an election necessary, the election will be held on Monday, October 16th.

ARTS—LAW FOOTBALL.

There was no practice yesterday on account of the rain, but to-day we want a full turn-out at three o'clock at the Union. If it is raining too hard we will have a signal practice. If you cannot be there at three, come at four. It is absolutely necessary.

B. W. & F.

There will be a wrestling practice in the McGill Union at 5.15 to-day. Dressing-room in the basement. Freshmen are specially requested to attend.

DELTA SIGMA EXECUTIVE.

There will be a meeting of the Executive of the Delta Sigma Society on Wednesday, October 11th, at 1.30 p.m. in the Common Room, R.V.C.

ENTHUSIASTIC ROOTING IN BALL ROOM

Rooters Tickets Go On Sale Friday

NEW SONGS TRIED

Many New Yells to be Practised on Thursday

Once more the "Thundering Thunders" are out for gore. Another meeting was held yesterday at the Union to give all the men of all the faculties an opportunity of cheering for Old McGill all the time. The cheer leaders, Bert Tremaine and "Mrs." Nutting, worked hard to develop the new additions to McGill's howling crowd.

Two more practices will be held before the Queen's game. The next one will be held Thursday at the Union at 5.15. Song events of unusual interest are expected to occur then. The first is that the prizes for the best yell, and the best parody, will be awarded. These songs and parodies have been coming into the office all week, and have been tried out. The budding authors will receive their due reward on the course tomorrow. The other event will be the sale of rooters' caps. As all the world knows, it is impossible to cheer like a real son of Old McGill unless one is wearing the rooters' cap. Many are expected tomorrow afternoon to see the authors receive their laurels and to practice the new yells.

The last meeting will be held on Friday at the usual place, and usual time. All men who propose seeing the game as rooters must attend this practice. The rooters' tickets will be placed on sale at the conclusion of the workout. These are not the "left-overs." They are the best seats on the grounds. The ordinary rush seats are selling for $1.10. The rooters' tickets are 60c. Only men who are bona-fide rooters will have the opportunity of buying tickets at such a reduced price.

Someone, sometime, once said "This is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." Now everybody should say, "This is the time for all good rooters to come to the aid of the Rooters' Club. So all up and help put McGill's Call over Queen's line.

MORE REALTY THAN RHYME

The diplomats of yesterday
Were men of ready wit,
They always had a thing to say
And got away with it.
They wielded their duplicity
In subjects of debate;
And shielded from publicity
They ruled the country's fate.

For all they did was give the word,
And off to battle went,
A million men with flashing swords
To prove their argument.
At home remained the diplomat,
Assured a ripe old age;
Away from harm he calmly sat,
And read the sporting page.

Now in the recent scrape we had,
The time we fought the Huns,
Then foreign bluffing was the fad,
And chips were men and guns.
But with this new democracy
This stuff has faded out . . .
Until the old diplomacy
Once more begins to shout.

SAILOR'S SONG.

Let the wave be my tomb!
Let the billow close o'er me!
Let me die as I've lived
On the water that bore me!

I was born on the sea,
And she made me her own,
And she lifted me high,
Like a king on his throne.

And I loved the proud floss
Of her waving green hair,
The ripples that ran
When the weather was fair.

And I've fought like a fiend
When the weather was wild;
And stalked all my strength
As the strength of a child.

'Gainst her madness and rage
When her long teeth sank
Deep in the wood
Of my good ship's flank.

But think you that I
Would leave the sea?
Would forsake if I could
The great Lorelei?
Let the wave be my tomb!
Let the billow close o'er me!
Let me die as I've lived
On the water that bore me!
—(Dianthos).

R.V.C. REPORTERS OF THE DAILY APPOINTED

At a meeting of the presidents of the several R.V.C. societies and the M.S.P.E. Undergraduate Society with the R.V.C. Editor and Assistant Editor, the following were appointed reporters to the McGill Daily:—

News," which he thought would bring the graduates into closer touch with McGill.

Dr. W. Belldawson, also of the Ottawa Valley Society, announced that a scholarship was founded by their branch; the objects of which can readily be surmised. Dr. Martin then gave a report on the endowment fund, of which he is the chairman. Considerable discussion followed as to the means to be employed in collecting the moneys for this fund. Balow is given, in detail, the report of Mr. Jenkins, the secretary, and also the officers of the society.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GRADUATES' SOCIETY OF MCGILL UNIVERSITY

Gentlemen:— I have the honor to submit for your approval the following report of progress since the last Annual Meeting of the Society.

Under the able leadership of the retiring president, Mr. Paul F. Sise, the Executive Committee has endeavored to carry out the wishes of the Society and has met at monthly meetings, except during the summer months.

The outstanding event of the past year, the memories of which still remain fresh in the minds of all who took part, was the Centennial Reunion, held at the University from October 12th to 16th. This event and its results have already been thoroughly reported at the Semi-Annual Council Meeting, held in May, and in the "McGill News". It will be sufficient for this report to add that the expense of the celebration was considerably less than had been anticipated. The cost to the Society was not more than $200.

Due to the untiring efforts of the Editorial Committee, under the chairmanship of Colonel A. S. Eve, the "McGill News" continues to maintain a high standard of excellence. Five numbers have been printed and distributed since the last Annual Meeting. As will be noted in the financial report, the revenue from advertising in these five numbers is only $110.40 less than the cost of publication and distribution. The "McGill News" has probably done more to increase the membership of the Graduates' Society than any other agent. The following extract from a letter from a graduate in Edmonton will bear this out. He writes: "Like every other McGill graduate, I know, I look forward to every issue of the 'McGill News'. It has already done more than any other effort to bind the hearts of McGill men to their Alma Mater."

The Appointments Bureau continues to function; although the applications for situations are greatly in excess of the number of situations vacant. At the present time assistance is being given to students, who wish to secure part-time employment while taking their courses. For instance, in one case a comfortable room in a respectable home was offered to a student who was willing, in return, to look after the furnace. It is intended with the assistance of the University authorities to develop this work during the present session.

Since the last Annual Meeting the Library Fund and the Dawson Fund have been consolidated and are now known as the Dawson Fund. Originally the Library Fund was used to purchase books for the library. The Dawson Fund was used for purchasing book plates for these books. In the course of time the Dawson Fund became larger than the Library Fund and the amount paid to the University for buying book plates was more than the money collected for buying the books; a case of "the tail wagging the dog." To overcome this difficulty the two funds were united, and the University Librarian is now able to use his discretion with regard to the amount of money he spends on book plates.

Your Executive Committee has considered the advisability of publishing a new Graduates' Directory to replace the very much out-of-date volume which was distributed in 1913. The Governors of the University have agreed to pay half the cost of the printing of this book. Other details have been left to the in-coming Executive.

At the request of the Board of Governors the Society assisted in collecting from a number of graduates whose payments were past due certain sums promised at the time of the Centennial Endowment Fund Campaign. At the beginning of the year the total amount of the unfulfilled pledges amounted to $30,000. This amount has now been considerably lessened.

The election of the officers of the Society, the Representative Fellows and the Graduates' Society Representative on the Board of Governors of the University was carried on during the summer in the usual manner. A great deal of interest was shown in the voting and in many cases the contest for the different offices were close. The following have been elected:—

The Society now has three Representatives on the Board of Governors of the University — Messrs. Eugene Lafleur, Graham Drinkwater and Walter Molson. In future one representative retires from the Board each year and a successor will be appointed for a term of three years. The election of Representatives to the Board of Governors is one of the most important of recent developments of the Society. It is felt that the graduates now have a distinct part in the governing of the University.

Reports from the Branch Societies indicate a flourishing condition. Activities are usually suspended during the

OTHER ELECTIONS

Science '25 and Dents. '26 Choose Officers for the Coming Year

At a class meeting held yesterday, the Class of Arts '23 elected its officers for the ensuing year. A notable feature of the meeting was the keenness which marked the elections, in all cases the successful candidates obtaining office by small margins.

Bev. Puddicombe, the retiring vice-president, was elected president; Stan Read, the retiring secretary-treasurer, was elected vice-president; while A. T. McIntyre, who has held many important executive positions, was elected secretary-treasurer.

E. C. Amaron, for the past two years president of the Class, refused to allow his name to be put up. Dave Johnson, the well-known trackman, also refused nomination.

The retiring president, E. C. Amaron, thanked the Class for the way in which the executive had been supported, and expressed the hope that the newly elected officers would receive the same support during the coming session.

SCIENCE '25

The Sophomore Class in Science recently held a meeting to elect Class officers for the ensuing year: Robert E. Degenman was elected president; C. H. McNaughton, vice-president; H. D. Hymer, secretary; W. A. S. Gilmour, treasurer.

The Class moved a vote of thanks to the committee which had charge of the initiation of freshmen

DENT '26

A Class meeting was held recently by the freshmen class in Dentistry. The most important question arising was the election of officers for the ensuing year. N. T. Martin was elected president; Miss Florence Johnson, vice-president; I. Harrison, secretary; J. O'Mara, treasurer. The remainder of the time was devoted to organization and plans of the activities of the Class.

summer months, but this year two visitors from the University attended graduates' meetings in various cities in Canada. In the early part of the summer Dr. Thornton, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, visited most of the important western branches, and the branch in Los Angeles. He reported successful gatherings everywhere he went. Sir Arthur Currie took advantage of the Board of Trade trip to renew the acquaintance of the western graduates. Meetings were held whenever time permitted. In Edmonton, Victoria and Vancouver large numbers of the graduates enthusiastically greeted the Principal and members of the Board of Governors. Arrangements for these meetings were all made from the Montreal office.

That the out-of-town societies support the McGill News will be seen from the large number of subscribers mentioned in the treasurer's report.

Good progress is reported by the Committees of the Graduates' Endowment Fund. Both the Board of Trustees and the Fund Committee have organized, and are in a position to proceed with this work. The following are members of the Fund Committee:—

C. F. Martin, A. '88, M. '92.
F. S. Keith, S. '03.
Geo. Currie, A. '11.
W. C. Nicholson, A. '13, L. '19.
E. B. Tilt, S. '03.

The Board of Trustees is composed of: GRADUATE MEMBER—BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

C. F. Sise, S. '97, 4 years.
Dr. C. F. Martin, A. '88, M. '92, equal.
John McDonald, A. '01, equal.
E. G. M. Cape, S. '98, 5 years.
George Montgomery, K.C., equal.
P. D. Ross, S. '78, 6 years.
G. S. Raphael, S. '08, 7 years.

GOVERNOR MEMBERS.
J. W. Ross, LL.D., 1922.
W. M. Birks.
Chas. J. Fleet, A. '73.
Francis McLennan, L. '84.
Graham Drinkwater, S. '97.

Already a certain amount of money has been contributed to this Fund, $2,750 was given at the time of the Centennial Endowment Fund; the Class of 1922 (the first body to make a contribution as a class), gave $204; the class of Arts, 1904, has a campaign under way at the present time and has contributed to date $175, making a total of $3,129. Mr. A. P. Murray reports that the class of Arts '87 has organized for the Endowment Fund scheme. Mr. A. F. Byers reports the same for the class of Science '00. A separate report on the Endowment Fund has been prepared for this meeting.

The treasurer's report will show that the finances of the Society are in a sound condition. The excess revenue for the past year amounts to $656.53. Respectfully submitted.

BIG FACULTY TRACK MEET THIS FRIDAY

Science Presents Greatest Number But Medicine Strong

RECORDS MAY FALL

Fast Competition in Spite of Damper on Track Activity

Last night the entry blanks for the coming inter-faculty track meet were removed from the Union and the locker room at Molson Hall. Any post entries must be turned in to Coach Van Wagner or Manager R. B. Henry, of the Track Club. The entry list up to date shows an overwhelming majority of Science men but the Faculty of Medicine makes up in quality for what it lacks in quantity. With Hay, Hamilton, Kennedy, Tait, Walker and Wiggins, all well known as track stars, on their list, they seem to have every chance of winning. Fullerton, Forrest, Hall, Meahan, Solloway, Mitchell and Ruben are among the Meds. who are entered, and who may surprise the scorers by bringing home a few places, if not passing some of the old-timers. The Meds. have a well balanced delegation, but they will have to work to overcome the Science runners, who have ten more entries in the meet. Consiglio, Legg, Stephen, Champion, Antcliffe and Bishop are among the best on the Science list, while Patterson, who surprised the Sophomores and a few track rail birds, besides last week when he clocked 10 3-5 seconds for the hundred. This man is a possible record-breaker and the men who in the past few years have monopolized the sprints will have to step out to hold their honors. Besides these men Wilson, Watson, Burroughs, Farrar and Norton, who are all new men on the track, should add a few points to the Science score in their respective events.

Don Foss is also in the meet and is all by himself in some of the weight events, with Vernot, also of Science, close behind to pick up a few odd points. Vernot was sick and unable to compete in the meet last week but for a new man at the game he is throwing the weights in fine shape and although not a sure point winner he will make his competitors work. Fry is another man who is, although new at McGill, not unknown to the track followers. He has been at R.M.C. and made some good times there in the past few years. Darling, who won the hurdles last week, should add on the odd point to the plumbers' score. These men do not complete the entries from this faculty. They have quite a few more, all of whom have been on the track this fall and should pick up a lot of points. They are working hard to win and they have an even chance.

Arts has a small but select list of entries. Johnson is by far their best bet and is running in fine form, although it is rumored that he will not enter all the sprint races. This will give the newcomers a chance to place. Smyth and Smith are two other sprinters from the Faculty of Arts. They showed up well in the meet on Saturday and may add to their teams' points. Amaron, Jardine and Doushness are all weight men in this faculty. Jardine is without a peer in the shot and may touch the record if he has a good day. Alexander is the most promising new man in this outfit. He has been navigating the half and the quarter at a fast pace in the last week and may spring a surprise on Friday. Code and Craik are the pole vaulters from this department and are both in true form. Craik is of last year's team and is going better than ever. Code won the pole vault last week and was not forced to exert himself, so that his best is not yet known.

Commerce have as their best runner Grimson, who last week placed second in the half and three-mile events and was a member of the winning relay team. This versatile runner, if he stays in one event, should be able to score a win. Robb is a hurdler and shows promise, winning a second last week and lost his stride once. With this week's practice and a little luck much can be expected from this man. Cassils and Punde go to complete the Commerce team.

Law also has a small but select group, of men entered. Gahoury, the holder of the college pole vault record, is of their number. He is entered in several events and is a dangerous man to oppose. Goren is of the Law team. He is a 440 runner and fair at the shorter distances. Law may not win but they may beat Commerce and score the points that might give the meet to another faculty.

There is a possibility that the MacDonald College team may enter the meet. Several members of the Track Club are attending the meet at St. Anne's and will have an eye on any material that is there. The chance of a team coming in on Friday is good and it will increase the competition.

The inter-faculty meet is held under great disadvantage this year, owing to the fact that no holiday as yet has been given, and the men who are to enter the meet, as well as those men who wish to see it are not exempted from their lectures. This will in all probability slow the interest in track down, but nevertheless the meet will be the most hotly contested event of its type that has been held for some years.

SENIORS PRACTISE IN POURING RAIN

Woodruff of Late Freshman Team Given Chance

The football team held a hard scrimmage in the pouring rain yesterday and the men seemed to be able to stand the heavy going quite well. All of the regulars, with the exception of Philpots, were back on the gridiron and several new men were given an opportunity to show their wares to the coach.

Manson was given a tryout at the middle wing berth and Crawford was also given his chance and both of the men displayed quite a lot of ability at handling the pigskin and blocking the holes in the line. Two new men were worked a little outside positions also. Fife and Dyer were chosen to try out for the positions and both of them seem to be able players. Of course, it was hard to gauge their ability owing to the conditions but they should be able to come through if called upon to go into the game on Saturday.

Walsh and Baker were worked on the half line but neither of them were given much opportunity to show their wares as the majority of the plays tried out were through the line. Baker is being given his first opportunity with the senior team and may yet be used to work in the contest against the Presbyterians when they come to Montreal next Saturday. A third man will have to be found to replace Philpots, who will probably stay out of the game this week-end and one of the two new candidates may be given the call to do the work.

Woodruff, a player from the Yale freshman team, was tried out at middle wing and gave a pretty good exhibition. He lacks a thorough knowledge of what is required in the Canadian game, but should learn quickly and may be rounded into a good player before the end of the season.

TO HOLD PRACTICE THIS AFTERNOON

English Rugbyists Will Stage Game on the Campus at Half Past Four

A practice English rugby game will be played on the Campus today at half-past four. All those playing should be at the Molson Hall at a quarter past four in order that the game may start sharp on time. The teams will be as follows:—

"A"	Full Back	"B"
McAvity	Three-Quarters	Middleton
Marpole	Woolcombe
Cooper, H. C. P.	Eve
MacNamee	Wise
MacDonald	Murray
	Halves
Cooper, J. R.	Holman
Price	MacDonald
Patterson	Smith
Wilson	Grey Donald
Taylor	Beck
	Forwards
McGown	Rankine
Richardson	Laidlaw
O'Brien	McLeod
Everett	Nash
Subs—	Curren, Day, MacIntosh, Mitchell, Branch.

After the game a short meeting of the Club will be held in the Molson Hall.

All of the men seem confident that they will be able to give Queen's a hard battle when they come here on Saturday and the game should prove to be an interesting one. The squad should be considerably stronger than it was when it went into the game last Saturday and they should battle hard to win the opening game of the season on their home grounds.

CANADA INTERESTS BOSTON STUDENTS

Special Course Given on Canadian Resources

Investigations have shown that the average college graduate cannot name the provinces of Canada nor tell within 200 per cent. the amount of the population of our sister nation, asserts Prof. Roy Davis, assistant Dean of the College of Business Administration, Boston. To meet this situation a special evening course in Canadian resources and industry will be inaugurated in the College of Business Administration this semester with the co-operation of the Canadian Club of Boston and representatives of the Canadian government.

Dr. Arthur D. Little, of Cambridge, well-known authority in both Canada and the United States on research in the field of commercial science, delivered the first lecture in the course at Jacob Sleeper Hall on September 26th. Representatives from the Canadian Government will also lecture. Among the other speakers for the course will be Dr. Harold S. Davis, formerly assistant professor of the University of Manitoba; Dr. Stewart McDonald, head of the Economics department of Middlebury College, and W. Warner Lang, of Toronto, formerly instructor at Northwestern University.

The introduction of the new course in Canadian Industries and Resources, which is being offered at the College of Business Administration, has aroused much widespread interest. Several Canadian colleges are already planning to introduce a similar course in American industries.

The course is being given in the evening, but so many requests have come in for the privilege of taking it, that, next semester, the course will be given in the day division.

DANCING AT UNION AFTER QUEEN'S GAME

Sale of Tickets Limited to Seventy-five

After the game against Queen's next Saturday a "Thé Dansant" will be given in the Lounge Room at the Union. The University Dance Orchestra, including M. Adney, Club Le Baron and Simpson, will supply the music. Dancing will start directly after the game and will be continued until 6.30.

The tickets will go on sale at the Union on Thursday at 1 o'clock. In order not to crowd the floor it will be necessary to limit the sale of tickets to seventy-five. The tickets will be handed over on the receipt of one dollar and a half of Canadian currency.

Refreshments consisting of tea, cake, etc., will be served. As there will undoubtedly be a rush for tickets, all tea hounds are urged to apply for tickets at an early hour.

Other tea dances will probably be given during the season.

Louis R. Wells, head of the History department of the Mechanics Arts High School, will deliver the second lecture in the series.

Eric "Billy" Billington

Famous McGill Half-back Who Snatched Victory From Queen's by a Wonderful Fieldgoal in 1911.

Jack Lewis

McGill Outside Wing, Now Assistant Coach of McGill, Who Made Daring Run to Queen's Goal Line in 1911 Game.

GRIDIRON GRIST

Score, six minutes from the whistle, McGill 4, Queen's 19; Final score, McGill 20, Queen's 19. That was the story of a McGill-Queen's game that was played in Kingston eleven years ago. Battling their way against what seemed to be almost hopeless odds, the Red and White team started the last quarter of that memorable game with a score against them that seemed almost impossible to reach, much less exceed, but they did it. In five minutes McGill tallied fourteen points and left a crowd of spectators and a Queen's team equally dumbfounded behind them.

The massacre was started in the dying minutes of that game when "Billy" Billington kicked over the Tri-color line for a rouge and Masson repeated a minute later. Then the fireworks started in earnest. A series of plays had left McGill in possession of the ball on their opponents thirty yard line when suddenly George Laing shot around the end of his line and down the field for a thirty yard dash to a touchdown. It was not converted.

Queen's kicked off again and started a determined offensive but it proved to be shortlived. In the midst of a play in which the halves on the Presbyterian team were passing the ball from one to the other, "Silver" Quilty shot through and stole the ball out of mid-air and, before anyone realized just what had happened, was tearing down the field with the Queen's squad in full pursuit. Realizing that he had hardly enough speed to make the grade he passed the ball to the fleet Jack Lewis, the present McGill Coach, and the outside wing was tearing away with his heels kicking a merry farewell to the numerous Queen's players, who were shooting through the air in a desperate attempt to get him. They finally did get him just as he crossed the goal-line and dragged him two yards out into the field but, on the first down Garts-shore smashed through for a touchdown and Billington converted.

This made the tally 19 to 17 for Queen's and, with but three minutes to play and the home team's position was still pretty secure. Hazlett, Queen's star, began a series of punts to keep the ball out of his territory and the ruse worked for a while but Billington's returns kept moving him back until McGill had the ball at the centre of the field. Then came the stellar play of the year. On the first down, FROM CENTRE FIELD, AND AT AN EXTREMELY DIFFICULT ANGLE, BEING ONLY TEN YARDS FROM THE TOUCHLINE, BILLINGTON KICKED THE MOST MAGNIFICENT FIELD GOAL EVER SEEN IN CANADA BEFORE ON SINCE THAT TIME, and the game was over.

A report of the game at that time stated that, when the teams changed ends for the last time "not even the most enthusiastic McGill supporter considered a victory in the realms of possibility; but that was where they all made one big mistake. McGill is never beaten until the whistle blows and every man on the fourteen went into that final quarter with a grim determination that he was going to put up the biggest fight of his life."

The number of men on the team is changed from fourteen to twelve men but the spirit of the McGill teams remains the same. McGill is never beaten until the whistle blows. The team that comes here on Saturday to play is composed of a long list of stellar athletes who overshadow the men on the Red and White squad in the splendor of their past achievements but they cannot overshadow the McGill fighting spirit. They will find, as the fighting Queen's teams before them have found, that when McGill lacks the players their fighting spirit increases and the game is never won until the whistle blows.

MEETING OF FISTIC FANS OVERCROWDED

B. W. & F. Have Splendid Material This Year

START AT ONCE

Every Opportunity to be Given to Ambitious Fighters

The music room in the Union was overcrowded yesterday afternoon with members of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club. The occasion was the initial meeting of the fistic fans, and judging by the numbers and enthusiasm displayed, the B., W. and F. is to enjoy a most successful season.

The Club has three distinct departments, and each department has an experienced man at its head. The ranks of the boxing aggregation has, perhaps, suffered more through graduation than the other two departments. The loss of Shuckell and Connor will be felt. The former won last year's 135-lb. collegiate championship. However, there remains a splendid nucleus of sluggers for this year, including such worthies as Brewer, Schleifer, Foss, Abbey and Goldapple. Aspirants to the manly art should take the immediate advantage offered them by this department of the Club by turning out as soon as the first work-out is announced. Taylor, 145-lb. class, of Queen's, will be a tough proposition to run up against in the As-sault-At-Arms this year. It is rumored that this boxer has been training faithfully all summer.

The budding "Zybskos" have brilliant prospects for their department. Reid, Freedman and Rumble are still here, but Cohen, who made such a good showing last year, both in the intercollegiate and the United States tour, has graduated. The fencers are to start the year in great style. With the true spirit of the French art, it is rumored that they are to import all their equipment direct from Paris.

President Brewer announces that a three-bout boxing exhibition is to be staged at St. Anne's Hospital on November 8th, and that Secretary Howes is now in communication with MacDonald College to arrange a smoker there, which will feature several bouts. Brewer also wishes it understood that men attending B., W. and F. practices are credited with physical training attendance, and that, therefore, members of this Club are exempt from P. T. classes. Below is a list of the classes and of men in charge:

Boxing Meet—Tuesday and Thursday. Apply to "Shorty" Morris.

Wrestling Meet—Monday and Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. Apply to Armstrong.

Fencing Meet—Wednesday and Thursday. Apply to Aikman.

Boxing and Wrestling are divided into eight classes as follows: 110 lbs., 118 lbs., 125 lbs., 135 lbs., 145 lbs., 158 lbs., 175 lbs., and above.

UNION DINING ROOM UNDER NEW SYSTEM

The dining room in the Union will be opened today under our new system. The new plan will be given a trial at the noon meal. The 45c. lunch will be the only meal served. There will be student waiters. Tickets for this meal may be obtained from the cashier in the cafeteria. The cafeteria branch will carry on as usual.

The House Committee have instituted this new system in the hope that the dining room will prove to be one of the paying institutions around college. The student organization can serve meals at as low a price as the dining rooms downtown. Some students have not yet found this out for themselves. There are many reasons which make the Union dining room a great advantage. In some small way it fills the lack of students' residences. It serves as a meeting place for students. Some objection was made

BORDEN HEARD AT MICHIGAN UNIV.

Former Premier of Canada Has Fine Record

First, at least in point of time, among the ten speakers on the programme of the Oratorical Association of Michigan University, was Sir Robert Borden, former Premier of Canada, who spoke on "Political Development of the English-speaking Peoples," on October 6th. The ex-Premier is an authority in this field, having lived through many of the phases of political re-arrangement which he so ably took up. Sir Robert was for many years one of the leading politicians and statesmen of Canada, starting his career at the Bar in 1878. He has since that time developed one of the most extensive law practices. During the war, through his activities in the struggle, he attained fame in world politics. Shortly after the outbreak of the great war, Sir Robert took a leading part in raising the contingents, and in filling the various quotas.

In July, 1914, Borden attended the meeting of the British Cabinet, the first overseas man to receive such a summons. In 1917 and 1918 he represented Canada in the Imperial War Council and at the same time was engaged in the meetings of the Imperial War conference. During 1919 he came to Paris as chief plenipotentiary delegate from Canada.

His outstanding achievement, however, was his great work of effecting the passage and enforcement of the Canadian conscription measure. Although he had to encounter strong opposition, Borden was successful in securing the passage of the bill and thus he assured Canada the fullest utilization of her man-power resources.

PRINCETON COACH BOOSTS X-COUNTRY

Fitzpatrick Advises Track Men to Try Harrier Running

"Every good man that ever ran in the distance runs was developed mainly through a few years of hard work cross-country," said Keene Fitzpatrick, coach of the Princeton track team.

"Cross country is the best asset that distance men have. During the long grind of a cross-country race I have seen the men's ability brought out most truthfully. This has given me material with which to work and to it I attribute much of my success. I have taken men, just common ordinary men who never had any inclination to run in high or prep school put them through two years of good consistent cross-country running, and at the height of their running in the third season they have often turned in the scores of 1:55 in the half mile and .49 flat in the 440.

"Cross-country cannot be stressed too much. For 25 years English runners could beat anything in the United States at any distance above the 440. The simple reason for this was that their long runs and game of haies and hounds built up sets of muscles to a degree that the Americans were unable to reach. Seeing this situation the American coaches took up cross country running.

"Cornell was among the first schools to take up the then new kind of running. To-day they have between 300 and 500 runners out for their cross country team every fall. One has only to look over Cornell's track records for the last decade to see that this style of running has produced results that are unquestionable. Those results and the ones obtained at other colleges of prominence in the East have caused me to believe absolutely in cross-country as a builder of long distance runners."

Speaking of the personnel of a track against the cafeteria system. This has now been removed and there is no excuse for any student not giving the Union dining room at least a trial. It is up to the students to make the Union a success and to support the House Committee in every possible way.

team Fitzpatrick said, "A good team should have at least seven or eight good men in every event. A coach cannot hope for more than three or four stars; and, furthermore, they do not do all that is necessary to have a winning team. The men who finish second and third are the men who win meets. Teams have often won most of the first places, but have lost through inability to pile up a number of second and third points.

"Some men are naturally faster than others at the outset of the season, and I always divide my men into two squads, the fast and the slow. I always give men as much time as they need, or I am willing to give each individual man as much time as he is willing to give me. The more men you have out the more material is available.

"The case always is that there are more good men in the University who could run than there are out competing for positions. How can they do anything, if they never come out or make no attempt at the game? Too often members of the student body at large do not realize that they are the ones who could turn a one point defeat into an overwhelming victory.

Fitzpatrick's great theory in running is to imbue the spirit in his men that will not let the other fellow know that you are tired. He tells his men to always believe that they are as good as their opponents.

"Schools have their lean and their fat years and the best that any coach can wish for is to get his share of the victories," Fitzpatrick concluded.

THE CAMPUS SLACKER

Prominent among the well-known figures on every campus is the man who is only too glad to accept an office or place on a committee to get his name in the paper, but who will not live up to the responsibility of his position by leaving the necessary work for someone else to do. Such a man is a campus slacker.

This class of man likes to feel the importance of serving on some committee but he does not like to do the work. He not only prevents results being obtained as they should be, but prevents someone else from taking the job and doing the work as it should be done.

But it does not take very long to recognize the species; and when once recognized he finds his honors dwindling rapidly. Don't be a campus slacker.

"Mayn't I be a preacher when I grow up?" asked the small boy.

"Of course you may, my pet, if you want to," his mother replied.

"Yes, I do. I s'pose I've got to go to church all my life, anyway, an' it's a good deal harder to sit still than to stand up an' holler."

A Scotsman in Toronto is jubilant over the advance of street car rates from five to seven cents; for he says he now has to walk only four times to his work in order to save a quarter, whereas under the old rates which gave six tickets for twenty-five cents he had to walk six times to save a quarter.

A lecturer had been describing some of the sights he had seen abroad.

"There are many spectacles in the world that one never forgets," he said.

"I wish you would tell me where I can get a pair," exclaimed an old lady in the audience. "I am always forgetting mine."
